

Role of the Macmillan Acute Oncology Clinical Nurse Specialist

Role of the Macmillan Acute Oncology Clinical Nurse Specialist.

- Experienced Macmillan professional who specialises in acute problems of cancer care.
- A key worker for patient's with a cancer of unknown primary.
- A key worker for patients admitted to WUTH with cancer treatment related problems.
- An advisor and link to healthcare professionals within the community, WUTH and tertiary centres including Clatterbridge Cancer Centre .

How can we help patients?

- Provide specialist advice and personalized care to patients and families.
- Facilitate case discussion at the regional MDT.
- Signposting and working with other agencies including Maggie's centre, CAB, DWP.
- Run a support group for patients with cancer of unknown primary.

Personalised Care and Holistic Needs Assessment

- Meeting on a one-to-one basis to find out your concerns.
- Care tailored to your needs and wishes.
- Providing help and information on where to get help, for example financial help.
- Referring you to community services to support you.

How can we be contacted?

Tel: 0151 604 7433 Ext 2392 Email: wih-tr.AcuteOncologists@nhs.net