A taste of the world for Race Equality Week

To mark Race Equality Week (Monday 2nd to Sunday 8th February), our Catering Team at Arrowe Park Hospital will be celebrating the diversity of our workforce with a special international menu, inspired by flavours and dishes from around the world.

Across the week, colleagues at Arrowe Park can expect a rotating menu featuring a mix of international comfort foods and well-known global favourites, alongside vegetarian options. The menu reflects a range of cultures and cuisines, offering both familiar dishes and something new to try, all prepared by the catering team with care and pride.

Food is something that naturally brings people together, and this initiative supports this year's Race Equality Week theme, #ChangeNeedsAllOfUs, highlighting how everyday moments can help us connect, learn and celebrate what makes our workforce so diverse.

Due to current staffing pressures, the menu at Fir Trees Restaurant, Clatterbridge Hospital, will remain unchanged next week. However, the Catering Team is already reviewing how support can be strengthened so that future awareness days can be marked with themed menus at Clatterbridge, as staffing allows. This is part of a wider commitment to continue building inclusive food offers across our sites throughout the year.

A big thank you to our catering colleagues for their continued hard work and for supporting Race Equality Week in the ways they can.
