Welcome to Yasmin Habib, Divisional Director of Nursing for the Emergency Division

We are pleased to introduce Yasmin Habib, who joined WUTH in January 2026 as Divisional Director of Nursing for the Emergency Division.

Yasmin brings 25 years of nursing experience, predominantly in urgent and emergency care, with a strong clinical and leadership background. Her career spans a range of organisations, including Manchester Royal Infirmary, Northern Care Alliance, and most recently Warrington and Halton Hospitals.

Her experience is firmly rooted in frontline emergency care, having worked clinically as a Band 5, 6 and 7 nurse, as well as an Emergency Nurse Practitioner. Alongside this, Yasmin has more than a decade of experience in senior management and leadership roles, supporting teams through change and strengthening clinical governance.

Speaking about joining the Trust, Yasmin said: "Emergency care is fast paced and complex, and no two days are ever the same. It is also where we have the opportunity to make a real difference at some of the most critical moments in a patient's journey.

"I am really looking forward to working closely with teams across the Emergency Division and the wider Trust, supporting colleagues through upcoming changes and strengthening governance, communication and quality of care. My priority is to ensure our staff feel supported and clear about what is happening, so together we can continue to provide safe, compassionate care for our patients."
