

Date: 9th February 2026

AHP research study day opportunity

Allied Health Professionals across the Trust are invited to attend the Building AHP Research Capacity Study Day on Tuesday 17th March 2026.

The event is hosted by Chartered Allied Health Professions Research North West and will take place from 9.30am to 3.30pm at Alder Hey Children's NHS Foundation Trust, at The Institute in the Park.

The study day will feature talks from AHPs who have followed different research pathways, including MSc and PhD routes, internships and roles with protected research time.

Attendees will also hear how research can be supported through mentorship and coaching, explore a range of research journeys and career pathways, and learn about networking and ongoing support opportunities.

Whether you are new to research or looking to take the next step, the day will offer practical guidance, shared learning and the chance to connect with peers and mentors.

Further details and registration information are available via Eventbrite.

BUILDING AHP RESEARCH CAPACITY

AHP Study day:

- 🕒 09:30 – 3.30pm
- 📅 Tuesday 17th March 2026
- 📍 The Institute in the Park
Alder Hey Hospital
Liverpool, L12 2AP

What the day will include

- Hear from a variety of AHPs about pathways into research, including MSc, PhD, internship and protected time opportunities.
- Learn how AHP research can be supported through mentorship and coaching.
- Explore different research journeys and career pathways.
- Discover networking and ongoing support opportunities to help you take your next or first steps in research.

register now

<https://cahpr.org.uk>

