Supporting work experience opportunities across WUTH

With the end of the school year approaching, colleagues are reminded that requests for work experience placements are expected to increase over the coming weeks.

As a Trust, we actively encourage work experience opportunities as they help showcase the wide variety of careers available across healthcare and provide valuable insight into working within the NHS.

Placements support not only young people considering future careers, but also individuals of all ages who may be exploring new and exciting opportunities within health and care.

If your team is planning to host work experience placements, please ensure arrangements are made in line with the Trust's Work Experience policy and guidance and liaise with the Learning and Vocational Development Team to ensure all required paperwork and processes are completed.

Taking these steps helps ensure placements are delivered safely and provide a positive experience for everyone involved.
