All staff involved in the recent UKAS accreditation visit for Blood Sciences

The DCS Divisional Triumvirate would like to thank all off the staff involved in the recent UKAS accreditation visit for Blood Sciences. There was a huge amount of work that took place prior to the visit, while maintaining the provision of our clinical services. I know many of the team worked additional hours in order to put the service in the best position possible and that this has been recognised by both ourselves and the inspectors. The lead technical inspector said, "I would happily have mine, or my families samples brought to this laboratory". This speaks volumes and something you all can be immensely proud of as we clearly put our patients first. Thank you!

Jane Glover and the Endoscopy Team

A huge shout out to Jane and the team for the kindness, compassion and care shown during both visits to the unit. During a recent visit, Jane took the time to come and see my mother and I as we were both feeling nervous. Her calm, caring and reassuring approach helped ease our fears and made a real difference to our experience. The whole team showed genuine compassion and professionalism throughout, helping to make what could have been a difficult experience feel as comfortable and positive as possible. Thank you, Jane, and thank you to the entire team, you are all amazing.

Megan Davis, Gynaecology Specialist Nurse Sonographer

A huge shout out to Megan Davis, Gynaecology Specialist Nurse Sonographer, for going the extra mile to support an extremely anxious patient. Through the trust and rapport Meg built during the appointment, the team was able to complete the full diagnostic testing required. Throughout the consultation, Meg took the time to explain each step and continually reassured the patient that they remained in full control and that the appointment could be stopped at any point if needed. The patient commented afterwards on how amazing Meg had been, which is a real reflection of her compassion, professionalism and patient-centred approach. Thank you, Meg, for making such a positive difference to a patient's experience.

Your support, warmth and commitment do not go unnoticed, you are an absolute credit to the Trust. Thank you for everything you do.
