

Date: 6th August 2026

Easier access to BMJ Best Practice

Accessing the latest clinical guidance through BMJ Best Practice is now even easier for colleagues.

Users can now log in to BMJ Best Practice using their NHS email address, providing instant access to the latest guidance on diagnosing, treating and preventing a wide range of diseases and conditions.

BMJ Best Practice provides healthcare professionals with evidence based clinical information that can be accessed when needed to support clinical practice and decision making.

Colleagues can also download the BMJ Best Practice app, making it easier to access guidance wherever you are working.

Already have an account?

If you already have an existing BMJ Best Practice account, you should continue to log in using your NHS OpenAthens credentials.

New users can use their NHS email address to access the service.

Click here to access BMJ Best Practice and find information on downloading the app.